Middlesex Medical Society.

THE MIDDLESEX MEDICAL SOCIETY consists of all those members of the Massachusetts Medical Society who reside in Lowell, Billerica, Ashby, Townsend, Pepperell, Dunstable, Groton, Shirley, Tyngsboro', Chelmsford, Carlisle, Littleton, Dracutt, Tewksbury, Concord and Acton.

This Society was formed in 1844 in pursuance of an Act of the Legislature passed March 1803, authorising the Massachusetts Medical Society to establish district or subordinate associations, with power to hold meetings, make by-laws, and possess apparatus, &c., independent of the Parent Society, wherein the communication of cases and experiments may be made, and the diffusion of knowledge in medicine and surgery may be encouraged and promoted.

The Library of the Society at the present time contains about seventy volumes. The meetings of its Fellows are held in Lowell, when the physicians in the District belonging to the Society have an opportunity for the agreeable and improving interchange of thoughts and opinions on medical topics; for the production and discussion of rare medical cases; for the exhibition and inspection of specimens of morbid anatomy; and for all those advantages which flow from social intercourse among liberal and enlightened men.

Any physician residing within the district, who wishes to connect himself with this Society, will become a member of the same by uniting with the State Society.

LOWELL, Jan. 28, 1845.

At a legal meeting of the Standing Committee of the Middlesex Medical Society holden in Lowell this day, it was Voted, That the Secretary prepare for the press, the By-laws with a list of the Officers and Members of this Society and cause the same to be printed, not exceeding four hundred copies, supplying each member with three copies.

Attest,

J. D. PILLSBURY, Secretary.
